Richmond's Payrolls Rapidly Increasing

Estimated That Ten Thousand Men Are Now Employed

A prominent manufacturer of Richmond in speaking of payrolls offers the following good advice in building up industries, increasing payrolls, and putting things on a sound business basis:

"No individual making his home in this state can say to himself, 'I have no interest in bigger payrolls.'"

"In some way or other every person in the state is benefited by circulation of payroll money."

"In past years, and even now, effort has been principally directed to marketing natural resources and paying no attention to building up payrolls."

"Consumers and merchants must give preference, and terms of equal price and quality, to products of our factories."

"If the manufacturers can grow to a size that will enable them to reach out into other states, the increased business means bringing just that much more money into the state in which the payroll is maintained."

"Encourage our industries both large and small by equitable tax laws and a minimum of restrictive legislation and regulation. Payrolls build up our communities, political agitations do not. You are helping to win the war when you help maintain high efficiency and production in our industries."

Wesley Baker has returned from Lake county, where he spent a vacation of several weeks.

Uncle Sam Is Getting Results in Ship Building

Since the appointment of steel magnate Schwab to the head of the ship building board there has been an increase of about fifty per cent in production.

Seventeen wooden ships and one concrete ship, besides a number of steel vessels in fifteen days in May was a sample of speeding up industry by speeding down politics.

Politics has been eliminated in the preparedness program.

War means business with a cap. B. There is no "politics" over there on the allied front. There is a minimum demand for it at home. These are WAR times.

Long Ways From His Canada Home

John L. Hanford, the trusted employe of the Santa Fe in the oil department, has "been discovered"—that is, his friends by the assistance of Tom Marks and his new war map have found the place where Hanford was born—Malone, N. Y., the extreme northern point. He was brought up in Huntington, Canada, just across the line. There is nothing strange or sensational about this, only Jack's friends wonder how he happened to wander away out here.

Sugar Allowance Curtailed

Local grocers have received instructions from the food administration officials that a 2-lb limit to a family was now in force.

No hoarding will be permitted. Housewives may purchase 25 lbs for fruit canning purposes, but must sign up, and not get caught smuggling or their supply will be confiscated.

Suit Postponed

The suit of David Cameron brought against the members of the city council insisting that they refund money received as salaries, was postponed to June 21.

Policemen Resign

William Bolander has resigned his position in the police department. He has accepted a position with the Windsor hotel.

D. A. Lang has also resigned and is now working at the Standard Oil.

J. L. Constantine and E. L. Axte'll were appointed to succeed the above.

San Diego County to Beat the Kaiser

The board of supervisors of San Diego county have appointed five paid fire wardens and will, in addition, pay bills for fighting fires outside the Cleveland National forest, but within San Diego county. Petitions for this fire service were received from the county council of defense, the board of directors of the county farm bureau and prominent farmers and stockmen throughout the county.

"Fires destroy more of our food-stuffs than the submarines do," said a member of the board. "Our navy is beating the U-boats and San Diego county will help beat the kaiser by shipping her grain to France instead of letting it go up in smoke. That is why we believe in county fire protection."

Cupid Starts Another "Raid" on the Avenue

Although "Cupid" has been doing a good business on the south side of the avenue between First and Third, he transferred to the north side quite unexpectedly Monday night and took a "center shot" at that old pioneer, John Martin, familiarly known as "Jack" the dealer in "spiritual goods."

Jack says he is a "home man," prefers home cooking to the chop-house, and especially so when he has one of the finest little women in the world to cater to his epicurian taste.

The bride is one of Richmond's popular ladies, Mrs. Grace L. Tyler, a trained nurse by profession, whose home is at 460 Second street.

The happy newlyweds are spending a honeymoon at Calistoga Hot Springs. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

C. C. Young Candidate For Lieutenant Governor

C. C. Young of Berkeley, for six years speaker of the assembly and for ten years a member of that body, has entered the campaign for the nomination of Lieutenant Governor. Mr. Young makes a good point in formally announcing his candidacy by stating that this being a non-political year, and that the earnest endeavors of all should be centered in winning the war, he could serve his country best by assisting in giving a wise and economical administration of the State's affairs.

Mr. Young has a large following of friends in the bay districts who will give him loyal support.

Judge Lennon Seeks Supreme Court Seat

Judge Thomas J. Lennon, presiding justice of the state court of appeal, sitting at San Francisco, has announced his candidacy at the August primaries for the nomination for the position of associate justice of the supreme court. Judge Lennon will present his candidacy to the electors of this state on his professional and judicial record.

On his election to the superior bench of Marin county Judge Lennon was nominated as a Republican. He was elected for a second term upon that bench without opposition, having received all party nominations. When Judge Lennon ran for his present position as presiding justice of the court of appeal, he was endorsed by both factions of the Republican party and received the nomination of that party without opposition. Since then the law has been changed so as to make the judiciary non-partisan, and consequently judicial candidates will appear on the August primary ballot without a party designation.

Mrs. J. C. Osfield Has Returned From England

Mrs. John C. Osfield arrived at her home in Albany Sunday evening from England, where she has been sojourning for several months. Mrs. Osfield was a passenger on the steamer Adriatic, which, accompanied by three other steamers and convoys, made the trip across the Atlantic in seven days.

However, the voyage was accomplished without incident of much consequence, the anxiety and heart racking was none the less experienced, and the steamer's safe arrival in New York was an occasion for much relief.

While no submarines were encountered on the voyage the trip is fraught with much danger and Mrs. Osfield is to be congratulated upon her safe arrival home.

Great Work of Red Cross Is Wonderful Help

New Gas Rate Now in Effect

The new schedule for gas rates is now in effect, and detailed information is available on the reverse side of your monthly gas bill. There is a slight advance in rates for the small consumer. The minimum bill for a month is 75c. War conditions had a negligible effect on gas rates, and this slight advance will be dispensed with when the war ends.

Dance at East Shore

The Portuguese of Richmond and San Pablo will give a ball at East Shore tomorrow (Saturday) night, benefit Red Cross. They will also give a parade Sunday morning in Macdonald avenue, headed by the Oakland band. There will be drill teams of women and men, and the home guard will be on hand to drill.

Following the parade a barbecue and picnic will be given at Grand Canyon park, where there will be speaking, dancing, etc.

"Pep" Up a Little

It seems that hookworm or some similar germ has invaded the Oscar guard bunch and Captain Oscar Long wants to know why the members don't "ginger up" a little before the Boches come in the gate and catch us unprepared. Some of the centurians of neighboring cities and suburbs are drilling to beat the band and limbering up their joints so that in case of necessity they will be acquainted with the art of drilling and avoid stepping on their own feet when forming hollow squares or doing certain evolutions that may be required in war time.

John B. Miller, Chairman Second Red Cross War Fund Drive, has received the following telegram from Secretary of War, Newton D. Baker:

"Every battlefield in France speaks in eloquent testimony of the meritorious work of the American Red Cross. If the voice of the American Expeditionary forces could be heard, there would be no doubt concerning the responses of the United States in the Second War Fund Campaign."

"Terrors of battles are decreased and the horrors they entail are minimized by this greatest of relief agencies. No support which American people give to it will be misconceived or misdirected."

U. S. MARINES TRAIN "DOUG" FAIRBANKS FOR HIS BOUT WITH "LEACH" CROSS

When Douglas Fairbanks arrived in San Francisco recently he brought Leach Cross, the one time contender for the lightweight championship along with him, and a four round bout immediately was booked between the pair, and Mr. Fairbanks went into training, and as the United States Marine Band was playing at a local theatre, "Doug" got permission from the band master to secure the services of two of his men to help get him fit.

The result of the bout shows that the Marines did their work and did it well as "Doug" got his man in the first round. The U. S. Marines can do anything in the way of fighting, and from the way they are going through the Huns "Over There," it looks like the Soldiers of the Sea have them on the run.

For young men who are undecided as to which branch of the service to go into, The Marines, it can safely be said, will do the big work over there and do it well.

Enlist with the Soldiers of the Sea NOW and help the Boys over the Top.

AMERICANS ON MARNE DRIVE GERMANS BACK

Irresistible Rush Carries Them Into Town of Torcy

With the American Army in Picardy. The fighting Thursday night, June 6, raged with great fierceness for five hours. The Americans captured Boudesch and entered Torcy. Twenty-five Americans in Torcy engaged and drove out 200 Germans and then withdrew to the main line on the outskirts of the town. As the result of the two attacks by the Americans against the enemy in the second battle northwest of Chateau Thierry 300 prisoners were captured and the Americans extended their line over a front of about six miles to a depth of nearly two and a half miles. While the losses of the Americans necessarily have been heavy on account of the nature of the fighting, the German dead are piled three deep in places.

A number of machine guns were added to the American booty. The German prisoners taken by the Americans, many of whom were mere boys, had only been in the line for two days. Some of them wore the white bands of the Prussian Guard.

Private Carl B. Mills of Visalia, Cal., was in the first wave of Americans to go over the top in the Verdun valley to smoke out the Germans remaining there. He said that after his unit obtained its objective many of the men went back and filled the ranks of their advancing comrades. All worked like clockwork, he said. The favorite slogan was "Each man get a German, don't let a German get you."

Many instances are related of the heroism of the Red Cross workers in braving the shells in No Man's Land and gathering in or aiding wounded. The correspondent talked with a nineteen year old German prisoner who was sitting under a tree with the American bread and drinking French wine. The soldier said he had been fighting for a year and a half, for the most part in Russia. He carried a picture of his sweetheart on a heavy cardboard, which he said had saved his life from an American bullet.

The youth added that in Germany there was talk of millions of American soldiers but that nobody believed it. He did not know that it was the American troops who opposed the Germans. He thought the troops were British, as they wore English helmets. He added that the German soldiers no longer hoped to reach Paris. All of them were sick of the war and he was glad he had been made prisoner.

The American Marines, who began a second attack on the German lines late June 6, captured the village of Torcy and drove their way into Bourges. Virtually all their objectives in this attack were attained. The American plan did not include the taking of Torcy, but the Marines swept into it and drove out the Germans.

Condensed California News

San Francisco—Memorial services for Flight Lieutenant Livingston L. Baker, who was killed in Italy Monday, June 3, were held at Grace Cathedral at 4 o'clock last Saturday afternoon. The services were conducted by Bishop William Ford Nichols and Dean J. Wilmer Gresham.

San Francisco—Theophile L. Fritzen, once deserter from the United States Army and became an Alaska miner. He admitted this to Recruiting Sergeant Patrick Pepper in Oakland, but said he could "stand it no longer," and wanted to fight for the flag. Pepper believed him, obtained a special desertion release and Fritzen is at Angel Island. Fritzen walked many miles through the snow to the "outside" in order to enlist.

Oakland—Mrs. Sophie Mercer, a pioneer of California died Wednesday morning June 5, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Davis, 308 Sunny-side avenue, following a long illness. Mrs. Mercer was the daughter of the late Joseph Collingridge, at one time well-known in San Francisco, which also was the home of Mrs. Mercer for nearly twenty years. Collingridge crossed the plains in 1849 and settled in Tuolumne county, where he was joined the following year by his family, among whom was Mrs. Mercer.

Sacramento—Avery S. Hoyt of Los Angeles has been appointed secretary of the State Horticultural Commission, it has been announced at the office of the commission. He was named to succeed D. C. Fessenden of Riverside who has resigned to take up private work.

Alameda—A. K. Tichenor, vice-president and superintendent of the Alaska Packers' Association, announced in Alameda that the association had leased a portion of its unused water front tract for an airplane factory. Tichenor said that the Union Gas Engine Company of Oakland was back of the new venture. The land leased is the old Taylor tract, and is already equipped with buildings which will answer for airplane factory purposes.

San Francisco—An unusual tribute was paid to the memory of Mrs. Johanna Jaffe, when Rabbi Herman Rosenwasser conducted the funeral services for her at the Bush-street Temple. The burial of a woman from a synagogue it is said has occurred very rarely in the history of the Jewish religion, and authorities of the temple voted that it be done in this instance in recognition of a long life devoted to unostentatious charity. Mrs. Jaffe came to San Francisco as a girl shortly after the discovery of gold, making the trip from New York around the Horn. She lived the early part of her married life here, and then, after twenty years' residence in Seattle, where her husband had established the firm of L. Jaffe & Co., she returned to San Francisco, a widow.

San Francisco—Two masses are offered at St. Mary's Cathedral each Sunday in honor of the men in the service. A mass at 9 o'clock is offered for the safety and welfare of the living and one at 10 o'clock is offered for the dead. Rev. San Francisco—The will of James Rolph, Sr., who died May 31, was filed for probate June 7. The estate, valued at about $25,000, is left to his seven children, Major James Rolph Jr., William N. Rolph, Geo. M. Rolph, Ronald Rolph, Mildred T. Rolph, Elizabeth Jane Rolph and Thomas Rolph, after $1000 is given to his sister, Mary Rolph, and $500 to Mrs. Annie Rolph, widow of his brother, F. A. Rolph. The will was dated November 6, 1915.

San Francisco—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mrs. Mattie L. Cramer, passenger on the steamer Rook City, which was missing when the vessel arrived here from Los Angeles on May 11, was cleared June 7 when the woman's body was taken from the bay near Yacht Harbor. The body was identified at the Morgue by her divorced husband, Otto Cramer, a retired pickle manufacturer of 1302 McCall street, and Mrs. J. T. Wiseman, 415 Bush street, a friend of the woman.

Sacramento—Adjutant General J. J. Borree is not in sympathy with those who would prevent smoking tobacco and cigarettes being sent to the American soldiers in the trenches and general camps. Borree says: "I don't agree with Dr. C. J. Bushnell, a Chautauqua lecturer. It makes me sick to hear people talk the way he did about forcing cigarettes upon soldiers. Nearly all those fellows smoked in civil life and they are entitled to smoke at the front. I say send all the cigarettes and tobacco possible. It is all nonsense about cigarettes destroying their efficiency as fighters. When soldiers go to the hospitals they want smoke and they should have all they want. They are earning it."

Redwood City—A practical joke took a serious turn in the courthouse when Lieutenant Walford D. Seay of Camp Lewis was "arrested" by Under Sheriff H. W. Lampkin while he was applying for a license to marry Miss Claire Soule of Alhambra. The bridegroom is a friend of Principal W. L. Glascock of the San Mateo high school and Glascock induced the Sheriff's office to "frame up" an arrest. When the couple walked into the County Clerk's office, the under sheriff appeared with a telegram signed by "Captain Stringer of Camp Lewis," calling for Seay's arrest. Miss Soule fainted when shown the telegram, but was revived and told that it was "all a joke." The couple were married at the Glascock home in San Mateo.

NATIVE SONS' GRAND PARLOR ENDS SESSIONS

William F. Toomey, Mayor of Fresno, Cosen President Without Fight

Truckee—The adoption of war time measures of economy, the election of grand officers and the appropriation of funds to mark three spots in California in honor of prominent pioneers, characterized the closing hours of the forty-first annual Grand Parlor session of the Native Sons of the Golden West. The grand officers came to an end Friday night, June 7, with a great trout banquet served by Donner Parlor No. 162. The election of officers proved spirited. For grand outside sentinel, elected the president of the Kern County Grand Parlor office must first hold, was the most bitterly contested.

Mayor William F. Toomey of Fresno was elected grand president without opposition. William C. Cosen of San Francisco was elected grand first vice-president and James F. Hoyt of Martinez, grand second vice-president, also without opposition. William I. Traeger of Los Angeles defeated William Hayes of Berkeley for grand third vice-president. The grand secretary Fred Jung of San Francisco and Grand Treasurer John E. McQuigley, also of San Francisco, were re-elected without opposition.

Max E. Licht of San Francisco was elected grand marshal over J. J. Dugan of Oakland, by a vote of 198 to 165. J. A. Wilson of San Francisco was elected grand inside sentinel. The Vinland was sent down nine hours after the British steamer Harpeth was torpedoed thirty-five miles further from the Virginia coast. Until word of her sinking came from Cape May nothing had been heard of the operations of the enemy raiders since the landing of the Harpethian's crew June 6.

STUDY OF THE GREAT WAR

BY SAMUEL B. HARDING
Professor of European History in Indiana University

VI.—Conclusion. Before June 28, 1914, Germany would, if not war, at least another trial of diplomatic strength in which the threat of war should enter as a decisive factor.

"It now appears beyond the possibility of doubt that this war was made by Germany pursuing a long and settled purpose. For many years she had been preparing to do exactly what she has done, with a thoroughness, a perfection of plans, and a vastness of provision in men, munitions and supplies never before equaled or approached in human history. She brought the war on when she chose, because she chose, in the belief that she could conquer the earth nation by the use of the great armaments she had accumulated." (Ex-Senator Elihu Root, speech in Chicago, September 14, 1917.)

"There is a whole category of facts to which we do not, temporarily at least, attach a decisive importance, for the spirit of mathematics can invoke in its favor the benefit of coincidence. . . . It is a question of various measures taken by Germany (the state or individual) long before the menace of war was appreciable. Certain persons would see in those measures, of which the war has demonstrated the utility, the proof that Germany had, months before, taken the resolve to launch the European war in 1914. When one has seen the German Government at work this hypothesis is not extravagant." (Le Mensonge du 3 Aout, 1914, pp. 9-14.)

"In the summer of 1913 I learned of a meeting of the Friedensfreunde to be held in Nuremberg in July. I attended the meeting and became acquainted with a number of leading Democrats and with a good many others interested in peace, though not on a democratic basis. I was invited to come back to speak in the German cities, and I found time in December . . . to give lectures in Frankfurt, Wiesbaden, Mannheim, Stuttgart and Munich. Through my friends I learned a good deal of the plans of the Pan-Germans and especially of the German General Staff."

"In brief, they hoped to bring on war in 1914. Presumably, at that time, through disturbances to be created in Alsace-Lorraine. They were then proposing to take Belgium and Holland—Holland for the sake of making Antwerp the center for the coming attack upon England. They wished especially to take the two departments of Nord and Pas-de-Calais from France. They proposed to make of Boulogne the great seaport of Germany, surrounding its flat bay with breakwaters, doing all this before England would enter the war, and removing the German fleet to Boulogne. They had a new German name for Boulogne, but I do not find it in my notes and do not recollect it. They were also to take Paris and exact an indemnity that would pay the expenses of the war. 25,000,000 marks was the figure I heard mentioned. After this, they were to treat France with great leniency, relieving her of all necessity for maintaining an army and navy and defending her from her great arch-enemy Great Britain. It was thought that France being wholly degenerate would not resist, and she could then devote herself to commerce and to the continuing of losses of money to finance Germany industry."

"I suppose that the Zabern incident and the arrest of 'Onclé Hans' (Jean Jacques Waltz) were moves in the direction of inciting trouble in Alsace, getting a protest from France to be followed by a sudden ultimatum. The death of the Archduke (Francis Ferdinand) in Budapest on June 28, 1914, whether planned or not, served to make the way to war easier, by beginning it in the southeast." (Signed statement by David Starr Jordan.)

"Not as weak-willed blunderers have we undertaken the fearful risk of this war. We wanted it. Because we had to wish it and could wish it. May the Teuton devil throttle those winners whose pleas for excuses make us ludicrous in these hours of lofty experience! We do not stand, and shall not place ourselves, before the court of Europe. Our power shall create new law in Europe. Germany strikes. If it conquers new realms for its genius, the armies of all the good will sing songs of praise to the good war. We are waging this war not in order to punish those who have sinned, nor in order to free enslaved peoples and thereafter to place ourselves with the unselfish and useless consciousness of our own righteousness. We wage it from the lofty point of view, and with the conviction, that Germany, as a result of her achievements, and in proportion to them, is justified in asking, and must obtain, wider room on earth for development and for working out the possibilities that are in her. The Powers from whom she forced her ascendancy, in spite of themselves, still live, and some of them have recovered from the weakening she gave them. . . . Now strikes the hour for Germany's rising power." —(Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, see New York Times Current History, III, p. 136.)

IV.—THE AUSTRO-SERBIAN CONFLICT. I.—Introduction: Prior Relations of Serbia, Austria, and Russia. 1.—Previous history of Serbia: Its feeling of greatness under Stephen Dushan (died 1355); conquered by Turks, 1459; self-governing principality from 1526; independent of Turkey, 1878; territory greatly increased through war with Turkey, 1912-13. Revival in recent years of "Greater Serbia" movement, directed largely against Austria-Hungary, which held Croatia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, lands which by nationality and speech were Serbian and which barred Serbia from the sea. Compare Piedmont's unification of Italy, against Austria resistance.—(See War Cyclopaedia, under Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes.)

2.—Serbia's relations with Austria-Hungary. (a) Political estrangement due to Austria's high handed annexation of Bosnia in 1908, and the thwarting by Austria and Italy in 1913, of Serbia's desire for any other outlet to the Adriatic. Declaration enacted of Serbia in 1909 (March 31): "Serbia recognizes that the fait accompli regarding Bosnia has not affected her rights. . . . In deference to the advice of the Great Powers, Serbia undertakes to renounce from now onwards the attitude of protest and oppression which she has adopted with regard to the annexation since last autumn. She undertakes, moreover, to modify the direction of her policy with regard to Austria-Hungary, and to live in future on good neighborly terms with the latter."—(British Blue Book, No. 4; Collected Diplomatic Documents, p. 101.)

(b) Tariff disputes over importation of Serbian pigs into Austria-Hungary. A prohibitive tariff was imposed in 1906. (c) Continued agitation of Serbian revolutionary societies (especially the Narodna Obrana) against the "dangerous, heartless, grasping odious and greedy enemy in the north," who "robs millions of Serbian brothers of their liberty and rights, and holds them in bondage and chains."—(Austria-Hungarian Red Book, No. 19; Collected Diplomatic Documents, p. 465.)

(d) German plans for Berlin-Bagdad railway required that Serbia should be controlled by Austria.—(See above, ch. II, IV 4.) 3.—Russia's interest in Serbia—found upon kinship in blood, language, and religion, and on Russian aid in the past against Turkey (in 1806-12, 1829-30, 1877-78). This interest was well known, and Austria and Germany recognized that their policy toward Serbia might lead to war with Russia.—(See War Cyclopaedia, under "Pan-Slavism.") "During the Balkan crisis (the Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs) had made it clear to the Austrian Government that war with Russia must inevitably follow an Austrian attack on Serbia."—(Report of British ambassador to Russia, British Blue Book, No. 139; Collected Diplomatic Documents, p. 101.) "We were perfectly aware that a possible warlike attitude of Austria-Hungary against Serbia might bring Russia upon the field, and that it might therefore involve us in a war, in accordance with our duty as allies."—(German White Book, Collected Diplomatic Documents, p. 406.)

II.—The Serajevo Assassination (June 28, 1914).

1. Assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince Francis Ferdinand and his wife, while on an official visit to Serajevo, the capital of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. Failure of first attempt at assassination by explosion of a bomb; success of second attempt, some hours later, by revolver shot. The assassins were Austrian subjects of Serbian nationality.—(See War Cyclopaedia, under "Serajevo.") 2.—Opportunities of the crime for Austria.—(See Ramsey Muir, Britain's Case Against Germany, p. 152.) No Established Wheatless Days, but Pound and Half Should Be the Very Limit

The United States food administration has made wheatless days and wheatless meals optional in private homes. But that does not mean the lid has been taken off. It only means that the question of which day or meal shall be wheatless is left to the individual household.

In other words, the food administration has made the reduction of wheat consumption a test of good citizenship. Each citizen in the land is asked, as a good American, to cut his individual wheat consumption to a pound and a half a week. That means to cut the ordinary, peace-time consumption in two. It doesn't matter on what day or what meals that is done, just so it is done. In that regard the food administration says:

"In making optional the observance of wheatless days in private homes the food administration lifted no restrictions upon the consumption of wheat products. It is merely asking the American people to reduce their per capita consumption to not more than 1½ pounds per week. . . . This is an absolute military necessity. The method of saving is being left entirely to the individual. If it can be done without foregoing the use of wheat at any specified meal or on any day, the food administration's urgent plea for further conservation will be carried out to the letter."

HAVE A LAUGH

His Temptation.
"I hope my husband won't get involved into any games with those card sharks."
"Oh, he'll know when they are trying to cheat him."
"I'm not afraid of that, but you know, he's a sharpshooter."

A Victim of Fate.
"When I began business," said plutocrat wearily. "I made a solemn vow that when I had made an even million I would quit."
"But you've made that many times over," said the other man.
"That's the curse of it. When I've made an even million I find on figuring it up it's either a little more or a little less, and I've got to renew the heart-breaking struggle!" And the unfortunate man sighed heavily.

Of Course Not.
"Why am I rejected?" asked the applicant for military service.
"Weak heart," replied the examining surgeon.
"If I had a weak heart do you think I'd want to go into this kind of a war?"

Early Crop.
"So you own a good many suburban houses and small farms. Live on any of them?"
"No."
"Then you don't raise anything yourself."
"Oh, yes; every spring I raise rents."

Mental Industry.
"It's wrong to say I don't work, mister," said Plodding Pete.
"What work do you do?"
"Brain work. I have to think up a terrible lot of excuses for not accepting jobs."

A Patriot.
"He's a real patriot, anyhow."
"What makes you think so?"
"He's taken a big government contract for the same profit he'd charge a private corporation."

An Excusing Spirit.
"Didn't I see the grocer's boy kiss you this morning, Susan?"
"Yes'm. But he ain't to blame, ma'am. 'Twas the iceman set him the bad example."

Up-to-Date.
"Has your cook anything delectable on your daily diet, Mrs. Compost?"
"Sure, she has. We have everything now that's the style."

How President Kruger Decided Problem for Two Brothers.
That very canny person, President Kruger, was once called upon, as King Solomon before him, to pass judgment in a matter of ownership. The case was that of two brothers, who had been left a farm and could not agree as to the division which had to be made. They agreed that, rather than take the matter to the courts, they would let President Kruger decide. President Kruger appears to have hesitated about as little as King Solomon did. He instructed the elder brother to make what he considered a fair division, and then he gave first choice to the younger brother. A solution, like Solomon's, both masterly and simple.—Christian Science Monitor.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."
"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK. UGH!

"Dodson's Liver Tone" better than calomel and can not salivate.
Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's dangerous; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel puts the bones and should never be put into your system.
When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist just for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.
Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

Consumption of Sugar Goes Up to 84 Pounds Per Capita Since Revolutionary Period

The American war during the world's greatest war must get along with one lump of sugar instead of two in his coffee will be interested in the fact that the Revolutionary patriots had much less or none at all of the sweetening food material.

A century ago, says the United States department of agriculture, the people of this country consumed less than one-tenth as much sugar as they do now. In 1791-1795, just after the Revolution, the estimated annual consumption was 7.5 pounds per capita. In 1821-1825 the average per capita consumption was 8.3 pounds and was practically the same 20 years earlier. But in the five years ending with 1918 the total consumption in the United States was approximately 8,000,000,000 pounds, a yearly average of about 84 pounds for each person, or 378 pounds for an average family (4.5 persons).

Reasons for the increase can be found not only in many new and extended uses for sugar but also in the domestic cane and beet fields supplied 25 per cent of the sugar we used in 1911-1915; the planters of Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines furnished 26 per cent; while Cuba, supplemented by small amounts from other foreign countries, furnished 31 per cent. During these five years the sugar consumption of the United States averaged almost 190,000,000 pounds per week. The supply for 27 weeks came from foreign countries, our island possessions furnished supplies for 13 weeks' consumption, while the product of the United States proper was equivalent to 12 weeks' average consumption.

Ship Launchings to Swamp Kaiser

Western ship yards are going to break all records in ship launchings July 4 when every yard possible will send ships into the water.

Western yards are making themselves known the world over for quality of product and speed in production.

With equitable laws governing the American Merchant marine, giving it an even break with the rest of the world in cost of operation, we should be able to hold our supremacy as a shipbuilding and ship operating nation after the war.

Let's all pull together to make the Kaiser's spine creep when he sees the number of boats we will send into the water next month.

Read the 24th chapter of St. Matthew, and think it over. Some of the prophets 2000 years ago knew what they were talking about.

Newspaper Work Commended

In a communication received at this office from Guy R. Kinsley, director of publicity the American Red Cross, Pacific division, we quote the following paragraph:

"I believe it may be fairly said that no line of business in the United States has given more of its stock in trade toward 'Win-the-War-Activities' than have the newspapers. It is likewise apparent that without newspapers in all allied countries Germany might long ago have been the victor."

The man or woman who is broad-minded enough to forget political differences and prejudices after an election should be admired for their high-mindedness. The winning or losing candidate may be friendly or appreciative and serve each other in some other way, forgetting the "campaign camouflage." To hate a lifelong friend who may have been diametrically opposed to one in an election for public preferment is silly and indiscreet. We should not "hold it in" for a friend because he "beat us to it" in securing a "political plum."

Correct Lubrication for the "T"-Head Type Engine

The "T"-Head, illustrated here, is one of several types in popular use today. Engines of this type, like all internal combustion engines, require an oil that maintains its full lubricating qualities at cylinder heat, burns clean in the combustion chambers and goes out with exhaust. ZEROLENE fills these requirements perfectly, because it is correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude.

ZEROLENE is made in several consistencies to meet with scientific exactness the lubrication needs of all types of automobile engines. Get our "Correct Lubrication Chart" covering your car. At dealers everywhere and Standard Oil Service Stations.

Experts Say, "Zerolene Is Better"

Why are the majority of cars now lubricated with ZEROLENE? Because—ZEROLENE does hold better compression, does give better protection to the moving parts, does deposit less carbon. And this is the testimony of the leading automobile distributors of the Coast.

They know from the records of their service department—and we know from exhaustive tests—that ZEROLENE, correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude, gives perfect lubrication with less wear and less carbon deposit.

ZEROLENE is the correct oil for all types of automobile engines. It is the correct oil for your automobile. Get our lubrication chart showing the correct consistency for your car.

What are gasoline boiling points?

The boiling point of any liquid is the temperature at which it vaporizes.

Gasoline has boiling points ranging from the very low to the high, and in "Red Crown" they form a uniform, continuous, unbroken chain.

The value of gasoline lies in this uniform continuity of its boiling points.

Combustion starts with the lowest boiling points and flashes on through the gas. The continuous chain of boiling points—from the low to the high—is necessary for instantaneous, full-powered combustion. Eliminate one link and the power chain is broken.

Only a straight-distilled, all-refinery gasoline can have the continuous chain of boiling points. Mixtures always have "holes" in them.

Red Crown, the Gasoline of Quality, is a straight-distilled, all-refinery fuel having the full and complete chain of boiling points necessary for steady, dependable power: Low boiling points for easy starting, medium boiling points for quick and smooth acceleration, and high boiling points for power and mileage.
